

I do not want cellular telephones to be used on airplanes. Travel today is difficult enough, and to have someone sitting next to you talking on the telephone could just make things more difficult. Also is they keep ringing would be horrible.